Impact of the New Coronavirus around Inuyama

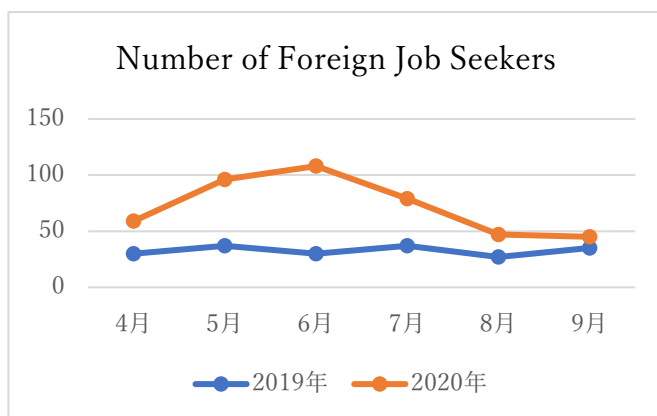

Due to the Influence of the new coronavirus the employment situation has deteriorated in Inuyama. As of August, the number of job seekers registered at the Public Employment Security Office in Inuyama was 897 people more than last year, an increase of 8.7%. On the other hand, the number of job offers decreased by 1,132 people compared to last year, a decrease of 22.6%. Foreign workers have also been affected. The number of new job applications for foreigners exceeded 100 people in June, which is about 3.6 times greater than of last year. However, the number of job vacancies in the manufacturing industry, which employs many foreigners, decreased by 52.6% from April to August.

There were many who carried out the procedures with limited Japanese ability.
The money they got must be repaid before the deadline.
I am worried that may not have been communicated clearly.

I am happy to be able to use the Japanese language that I learned in Japanese class at work. It is difficult for me to express my questions in Japanese, but learning Japanese is fun. Japanese people are kind and warm, and I feel the country is very safe. I get up at 5:30 in the morning to make lunch boxes for my husband and myself, which is a little bit early for me. I want to continue studying Japanese so I can learn to speak it better.

◆ Training Course for Promoting Stable Employment of Foreign Residents

This course aims to promote stable employment for foreigners, by offering Japanese that is used in the workplace or in employment situations (job listings, preparing CVS, and interviews). The course is offered at separate levels.

Eligibility: Permanent residents, spouses or children of Japanese nationals, spouses or children of permanent residents, and long-term residents.
